William H. Baker, millionaire chocolate manufacturer, who is president of the council, will be mayor until a successor is chosen at the next regular municipal election in June, 1914. Rev. W. D. Smith, rector of Christ Church of Winchester, is in New York attending the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church as one of the four clerical delegates from the diocese of Virginia. Rev. Smith, just before leaving here, said the Virginians Close Race for Congress in were opposed to any change in the name of the church. Bishop Gibson of this diocese is also opposed to any change, and the votes of practically all the southern dioceses, taken at their annual diocesan councils, show the same attitude. Out of a total of eighty-five applicants, thirty-five men were accepted for service in the United States Army at the six stations in the Roanoke recruiting district during September. While this is consider ably less than 50 per cent of acceptances from the total number of applicants, the record is equal to or better than in recent months.
